Continuing our opinions on the current session of the legislature and the proposed bond issues, there is one relatively small ($50 million) bond issue which will pass if if doesn't get tangled in the political web of election year politics. Auburn University and Alabama A & M have some crying needs for agriculture and veterinary medicine research buildings. The last time this issue was before the legislature it did get tangled in politics and never made it to the voters. This time both sides are on guard against such a thing happening. However, in an election year such as 1998, many good bills get forgotten while legislators jockey for legislative "position" with more than one eye on the voters back

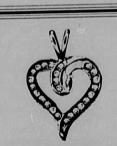

This week the county newspapers are publishing an eight page list of voters whose names are about to be purged from the list of qualified voters. The purpose of the Registrars printing these names is to give citizens another chance to re-identify before election time. Take time to check the list and if you find yourself listed, get in touch with the Coffee County Board of Registrars as soon as possible. Either that or leave the electing of office holders to the likes of yours truly!

The Coffee County Commission is wrestling with the idea of hiring another employee in their office. The idea is to hopefully eliminate a repeat of the recently publicized mishandling of public funds to the tune of some $68,000 (or more). County government is big business and it must be managed as such. It is probably a good idea if they will hire a person with the sole responsibility of counting money and/or watching the others who do the actual counting. There has also been some discussion of putting a limit on the pay for this position. We hope they don't put it so low that the qualified person Coffee County needs will not apply for the job because it would be a cut in pay. Or worse, someone takes the job and spends part of every day looking for a better paying position, rather than working full time for Coffee County. If you are gonna do it folks, get a good one while you are at it!

The recent bombing of an abortion clinic in Birmingham was done by a nut and not just some bleeding heart opposed to abortion. If a person was truly opposed to abortion because it is killing, then how can that same person justify killing someone themselves? My baby girl celebrated her ninth birthday last week with a skating party, and while Dad did help several girls tie their skates, he stayed off the actual skating rink to insure that no damage would occur to Dad, or the rink. About forty kids showed up to help Melanic celebrate, and even though the large crowd brought a lot of presents, their presence at the party was far more important to Melanie than their gifts.

TIGERS & LADY TIGERS POST BIG AREA WINS

The Elba Tigers and Elba Lady Tigers both claimed exciting wins Friday night in the Class 3A, Area 3 Basketball Tournament, and in doing so punched their ticket for a trip to the Sub-Regional playoffs to be held later this week. The Tigers survived a wild game to defeat the Rehobeth Rebels 84-73, while the Lady Tigers needed overtime to get past the Rehobeth Lady Rebels 43-42.

The Tigers entered the tournament in the midst of a five-game losing streak that included a huge upset loss to the Rebels, but the inside power of Tim Ware and Johnny Coleman proved too much for the Rebels to handle as the Tiger duo combined for 65 points to lead the Tigers to the win. The game was a rough and tumble affair, with both teams having scoring runs that kept the outcome in doubt until the final minutes. It wasn't the prettiest win of the season for the Tigers, but it was a win, and kept the Tigers alive and well in post-season play.

The Lady Tigers never seemed to be able to get into any type of flow in their win over Rehobeth, but stayed alive when the Lady Rebels missed a free-throw with :02 left in regulation, and then got the win on a lastsecond three-pointer. The Lady Tigers struggled throughout the game against a team they had beaten twice earlier in the season; however, a win is a win, and this one put the Lady Tigers into Sub-Regional play this week. Hey, any experience a team can get has to help somewhere down

COUNTY BOYS TEAMS SEE SEASON END

The three teams in the county all had high hopes entering area tournament play last weekend; however, those hopes were dashed in the opening round of tournament action as all three saw their season end after disappointing losses. Here's a quick look at what happened...

***NEW BROCKTON (15-12) found out the third time wasn't the charm as the Gamecocks were upset by Luverne, at New Brockton. The Gamecocks had defeated the Tigers twice during the regular season and were considered the favorites to win the area title, but the Gamecocks went cold at the wrong time and can now put up their sneakers for another year. You can bet the Gamecocks youngsters will remember this loss when the season rolls back around.

***KINSTON (3-17) felt like it had a solid chance of advancing in the area tournament, but the Bulldogs simply couldn't overcome a fired-up Ariton team and lost in the opening round of the event 67-54, in Ariton. The Bulldogs had all their players back for only the third time this season for the tournament and really thought they could put it all together, only to find out that it takes more than a week or two of work with all the starters to put the team back together. ***ZION CHAPEL (7-14) also had reason to be confident heading into the area tourney; after all, the Rebels had beaten Houston Academy in Dothan, and only days before had played their best game of the season in a stunning win over G.W. Long. The hopes were high, but they were dashed in the opening round as Houston Academy posted a 73-55 win. The Rebels left the court disappointed after the loss, but Zion Chapel's basketball program took giant strides this season and should be alive and well the next time they roll out the balls.

COUNTY GIRLS TEAMS STAYING ALIVE

It was Area Tournament time for the girls high school basketball teams across the state last week, and it was a good week for the teams in the county as New Brockton and Kinston both advanced, while Zion Chapel gave another gallant effort before falling. Here's a look back.. ***NEW BROCKTON (12-10) had a tough opening round draw, but disposed of Luverne for the third time this season as it posted a solid 52-39 win. The Lady Gamecocks have grown into one of the areas most consistent teams over the years, and now have a chance at making the trip to the Regional Tournament. Hey, they have a good chance!

***KINSTON (13-13) pulled off an upset in the opening round of tournament play as the Lady Bulldogs knocked off Ariton 50-48. The Lady Bulldogs have improved each and every week this season and have made giant strides late in the season. The girls believe they can win, and that makes a difference, especially at this time of the year.

***ZION CHAPEL (0-16) never felt like like, or played like it thought it would lose throughout the season; however, the Lady Rebels saw yet another winning effort come up short as they lost to Houston Academy 50-26. Don't let their record fool'ya, this band of Lady Rebels are not losers and set the pace for future teams that will win.

GIRLS BASKETBALL IS ALIVE & WELL

I have watched a lot of high school girls basketball over the past few months and am now convinced that the sport is here to stay, and despite what some might think, it is alive and well across the state. Some of the girls programs are in better shape than others; however, all the teams I saw this year were much better than a year ago, and with the junior high programs beginning to develop young talent, the level of play will certainly get better and better, real soon. I know a lot of basketball fans still aren't excited about watching the girls play, but as they get better it will be just as exciting as the boys. Just watch!

AREA ATHLETES ENJOY SIGNING DAY

The annual passage of National signing day has come and gone, and this year there were a bushel barrel of local football players that signed college scholarships. Goshen had four players sign pacts, while Luverne, Enterprise and Eufaula all had three players sign, and Dothan and Northview had two apiece sign college grants. Other area schools sending players on to the college ranks included Carroll, Dale County, Houston Academy, Samson and Opp. This part of the state has always been rich with football talent, and this year was no difference.

NO TIGERS AMONG COLLEGE SIGNEES

Last Wednesday was National signing day for high school football players, and while the daily newspapers were filled with the names of high school players that had signed college scholarships, nowhere on any list did the name of one single Elba Tiger appear. In years past the Tigers have sent such college standouts as Ted Horstead (Troy State), Russ Wood (Alabama), Troy Sanders (Florida State), Ronald McKinnon and Anthony Brooks (North Alabama), and Bo Boyd (Troy State) on to the collegiate ranks; however, this year not one single player from Elba signed with a college. Did the Tigers not have any prospects? In my opinion, Ronnie Davis was a prospective Division I signee at linebacker, while Cedric Howe was a can't miss prospect in the offensive line. Davis is 6'3", 200 pounds, and in a couple of years could easily be 6'4" and around 230-240. With his quickness and love of the game, he would definitely help any college. Howe, a 6'3", 280 pounder, sat out his senior year after a banner three-year stint with the Tigers, but was one of the state's top blockers his junior year and can flat out play. Maybe the folks at Elba High need to sit down with a teacher and create the position of "publicity director" for the students and student-athletes at Elba High. It looks like to me that many of our potential college recruits are going unnoticed, and that isn't fair to the students!

ONCE OVER, SOMETIMES NOT SO LIGHTLY....

***I was listening to one of the radio talk shows last Wednesday afternoon and heard a Montgomery sportscaster tell everyone to go to the bank and bet the house on the Alabama-Auburn basketball game. It seemed that the odds-makers had made Alabama a one-point favorite, and this so-called expert just went crazy talking about how stupid the bookies were, and how this was a "sue bet." I hope the sportscaster did what he told everyone else to do, and is now living at the radio station.

***The recent monsoons have delayed work at the baseball and softball fields at Elba High School, which means the schools will open the '98 seasons at Legion Field and Hawkins-Williams Park. Both teams hope to close out their seasons at their new fields, but right now the ground is simply too wet to work on. The fields at the school are going to be pretty when completed, and it will be worth the wait for the coaches when they can practice at their own place, and not have to travel across town.

***Just about everyone agreed that Alabama coach David Hobbs needed to be replaced, but the timing of his release by Athletic Director Bob Bockrath caught most by surprise. The new Alabama A.D. obviously does things his way, and whether or not that was the Bama way in years past makes no difference. His choice of Mike DuBose for football coach was an easy one for Bockrath, and if he has any sense at all he will name Mark Gottfried the new basketball coach. I have my doubts about Bockrath; however, if his new coaches work out he can be at Bama for years to come. If not? So long, Bob!

***The Montgomery Advertiser had big front page banner in its Sunday edition after "Violence in High School Sports," which made the article must-reading for all prep sports fans. A graph under the headline revealed 109 total incidents during the last decade that drew some form of punshment, with 45 of the incidents occurring in football, 44 in basketball and the rest in minor sports. A closer look at the graph showed that the incidents in 1997 were at a three-year low, with only 10 incidents reported. True, there are incidents of unsportsmanlike conduct in high school athletics, but why not follow the article with another one concerning the number of incidents at all high schools involving students who do not participate in sports. A news story can be written to make its reader believe what it wants to, and this was the case in this story, and related stories. It was not simply reporting the news.

Card Of Thanks

THE FAMILY OF RAY FLOWERS would like to say a heartfelt "thank you" to all friends who shared in our sorrow with so many acts of kindness. To each one of you who made a donation to the Seafarer's Chapel in memory of Ray, we appreciate you. The love, concern, and sympathy was overwhelming. God bless you.

HOPE

People come in two basic models. The big difference in people is not that some are rich and some are poor - or that some are learned and some are unlearned. It is that some have HOPE and others do not. This is the difference in the world.

One who has hope knows that the world is not an accident governed by chance or luck, but is the careful product of a wise and caring God. One who has hope is convinced that every person has a purpose and a place in the scheme of things. Without hope, there are no better tomorrows. Hope means believing that "what is" need not determine "what will be."

Hope is the conviction that as long as God is here even darkness can be turned into light. Hope is the secret that keeps some people going when others have quit.

When we are faced with difficulties or hardships, the key to overcoming is often not so much the depth of the problem, but the degree of our hope. People of faith who believe that God will deliver them often can endure far more than those who believe that they can make it on their own devices.

The voice of hope will tell you that you are just going through, it's just temporary. All flesh is finite; there are no exceptions. Trouble won't last always. The power that created the problem will fade, but the God who deliv-
